☞ GOOD WORK A SPECIALTY.

GOSSAMER WATER-PROOF CAPE.

THE MANUFACTURERS claim for the above new style of cape the following :

That they are perfectly water-proof.

That, if worn in the rain twenty four hours, they will not absorb any moisture, while the old style will nearly double its weight, and not keep the wearer dry, either.

That, when rolled-up, they are only seven inches long, and three inches in diameter, and can be carried in the pocket, while the old style is as large and cumbersome as a woolen shawl.

That, being so light-weight, and having no warmth, they are welcomed by all ladies for warm-weather use, or to throw over a winter cloak in cold weather.

That they are not affected by either cold or heat, neither will they become soft and useless with warm damp weather.

That all who have used the Gossamer Capes have expressed themselves perfectly satisfied with them.

That a lady, who has a Gossamer in her pocket, can leave the troublesome umbrella at home, and if the rain comes before she reaches shelter, with the Cape thrown over her, and the Hood over the bonnet, she is far better protected than she could be with the umbrella.

For sale at manufacturers' prices.

Special Notices.

CONSUMPTIVES, TAKE NOTICE.
Every moment of delay makes your cure more hopeless, and much depends on the judicious choice of a remedy. The amount of testimony in favor of Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure for consumption, far exceeds all that can be brought to support the pretensions of any other medicine. See Dr. Schenck's Almanac, containing the certificates of many persons of the highest respectability, who have been restored to health, after being pronounced incurable by physicians of acknowledged ability. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup alone has cured many, as these evidences will show ; but the cure is often promoted by the employment of two other remedies which Dr. Schenck provides for the purpose. These additional remedies are Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills. By the timely use of these medicines, according to directions, Dr. Schenck certifies that most any case of consumption may be cured.

Dr. Schenck will be at the Quincy House, Boston, on the following Wednesdays, from 9 to 3 o'clock : Jan. 13th and 27th, Feb. 10th and 24th, and March 10th and 24th. Consultation free ; but for a thorough examination of the lungs, with the Respirometer, the price is $5.

Dr. Schenck is professionally at his principal office, Corner Sixth and Arch Streets, Philadelphia, every Monday, where all letters of advice must be addressed.

A WARNING.

You think he loves you; yet, I say, "Beware!"
For heart by heart can scarcely judge aright;
Then, darling, ere you offer treasures rare,
Be sure his love and honor are as bright.

Come sit by me, and I will tell you why
I give this warning to your youthful years,
Ere sorrow's rain has dimmed your beaming eye,
Ere love's deceit has given doubtful fears.

Once I had faith, and loved as you do now;
And still my proffered gem found only sand;
Instead of troth, I held a broken vow
Within my listless, hopeless, earth-worn hand.

But yet I was not wrecked on grief's despair;
What if my idol turned to soulless clay!
I buried it beneath youth's blossoms fair,
And smile again, just as I smile to-day.

And now, my darling, do not give your all,
Love should but balance love; let some remain;
So if the shrine is false you may recall
Enough to save your future life from pain.
MINNIE J. OWREY, in the Evening Post.

RECEIPTS.

DROP CAKES.—Put six well beaten eggs into a pint of thick cream, add a little salt, and make it into a thick batter with flour. Bake in small cups fifteen or twenty minutes.

SODA CAKE.—Two cupfuls of sugar, one half cupful of sweet milk, with one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in it; four cupfuls of flour, and two teaspoonfuls of cream tartar.

KEROSENE OIL FOR FURNITURE.—Kerosene oil is the best furniture oil; it cleanses, adds a polish and preserves from the ravages of insects.

CANDY.—Two cupsful of sugar, two large tablespoonfuls of vinegar and a half a cupful of water. Boil together and add vanilla or lemon for flavor. It must be worked before it is very cold.

ROAST LEG OF LAMB. - Let the fire be moderate, and roast the joint slowly, basting it frequently till done, when it should be sprinkled with salt, and the gravy freed from all fat before serving.

MINT SAUCE.—Chop as finely as possible a quantity of mint leaves, previously washed. Add to them sufficient white vinegar and water in equal parts to float them, and a small quantity of powdered sugar. Let the sauce stand an hour before serving.

TO REMOVE MILDEW.—Soak the parts of the cloth that are mildewed in two parts of chloride of lime to four parts of water, for about two hours, or till the mildew has disappeared: then thoroughly rinse in clean water.

LAMB STEW. Take half a shoulder of lamb and boil it in two quarts of water for two hours. Then put in potatoes, onions, turnips cut in quarters, salt and pepper to taste. Ten minutes before serving put in the dumplings.

COCOANUT CAKE.—Two pounds of sugar, one pound of butter, one pound and three-quarters flour, ten eggs, two grated cocoanuts; add one half teaspoonful soda, last thing. This makes two loves.

PORK FRUIT CAKE.—Three-fourths of a pound of pork, chopped fine; one pound of raisons, one pound currants, one pound sugar, three-fourths of a pound of citrons, one gill molasses, four cups flour, one teaspoonful soda, two eggs, one teacup water.

TO BAKE APPLES.—Take sour apples, dig out the cores, place the apples in a dry dish or tin, fill the cavities where the cores came out with sugar, pour a cup of hot water in the tin, bake in a quick oven, and you will have a healthful and palpatable dish.

POTATO SALAD.—Cut a dozen cold boiled potatoes in thin slices and mix them thoroughly with a little onion chopped very fine, a teaspoonful of salad oil or melted butter, a chopped apple, a bit of parsley and half a gill of vinegar. This makes a nice relish for tea or lunch.

TO CLEAN BLACK GLOVES.—A good way to clean black kid gloves that are soiled, turned white and otherwise injured, is to take a teaspoonful of salad oil, drop a few drops of ink in it, and rub it over the gloves with the tip of a feather; then let them dry in the sun. Black kid boots and slippers can be restored to their original gloss by the same method.

SNAIL SOUP. Take one hundred snails, wash them well, boil them with pepper and salt till they can be extracted from their shells with ease : wipe them in a towel ; replace them in the saucepan, powder them with crumbs of bread, add mint, parsley and garlic, then a pint of milk of almonds ; before serving on slices of bread add for sauce the yolk of an egg beaten up with oil. If you take the snails out of the soup no one would object, and be well pleased when told after dinner what that nice soup was.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." THE DAY.

The President has issued a proclamation convening the Senate on March 5.

The resolution for the admission of Pinchback was tabled in the Senate yesterday by a vote of 39 to 22.

The monotony of the Beecher trial was relieved yesterday by the introduction of four new witnesses, who were called with a view of showing the frequent visits of Mr. Beecher to the house of Mr. Tilton. Their testimony, however, was comparatively unimportant.

The Democratic members of Congress from the South and Southwest have issued an address to the people of the Southern states, counselling prudence and forbearance under the existing condition of affairs, and advocating the maintenance of the kindliest relations with the negro, who should be fully protected in his right to vote as he pleases.

PERSONALS.

.....Senator Jones No. 2 from Florida is said to be a native of Ireland, 41 years old, who came to this country at the age of ten, has won a good rank as a lawyer, and is a moderate Democrat, his election not being considered a party triumph.

..... Why is it that the Conservatives of South Carolina are satisfied with Gov. Chamberlain? He is a radical Republican and a "carpet-bagger." Is it possible that he is decently treated by the rebellious South Carolinians? He is. They say they will sustain him with all their hearts, because he opposes stealing and favors economy.

....."Protection," which means taxation of the masses for the benefit of the few, has resulted in this country in threats of an empty treasury and more taxation demanded. Progressive free trade in Italy, a country with small resources and great burdens compared with ours, has led to financial equilibrium and soundness without extra taxes. Every workingman should be a free trader, for "Protection" only protects capital.

......The recent marriage in Paris of one of Offenbach's daughters at one time threatened a rumpus, which was fortunately assuaged, however. The famous opera bouffe composer, looking forward to the event as one demanding something different from his usual roll-and-tumble fantastics, composed a mass in music to be executed in the church of Notre-Dame-de-Lorette on the day of the marriage. The sacred priest, however, came forward and refused to allow its performance, on the ground that "he didn't want any comedy in his church." A fret ensued for the participators, and Sir Jaques threatened to incorporate the morceau into a fandango-medley for the bouffes.

......A curious anecdote respecting Sir George Westphal and Lord Nelson is not generally known. When lying bleeding from a wound in the head in the cockpit of the Victory, Sir George had his head placed upon the coat of Nelson, who had just then been brought down stricken to death. Afterwards it was found that three of the bullions from Nelson's epaulettes had got into the gaping wound in Sir George's head, and as they could not be got out then they had to be cut off. Some years after, when Sir George was asked if he would be able to recognize a coat offered to Greenwich hospital as that worn by Nelson, the circumstance led him to identify it directly he found the bullions which had stuck in his wounded head were missing from it.

.....A letter has recently been published, written by the late Chief Justice Chase in 1864, in which he explains his retirement from the Treasury Department as follows: "I did not resign because I saw my difficulty in the financial position which judicious administration and legislation could not easily overcome. On the contrary, I would have been willing to give bond and security, to the amount of all I have, that if supported according to my judgment of what was expedient and fit, I would make every greenback and National bank note par with gold in a year: or, if thought wiser, within six months. But I had the misfortune of incurring (how I knew not, for I was unconscious of injuring either,) the hostility of two leading members of the Cabinet, and I thought I could perceive indications that their hostility influenced the mind of Mr. Lincoln. While things were in this condition, the question of a successor to Mr. Cisco of New York came up, and the President declined to nominate the person recommended by me, unless I could obtain the consent of one of the secretaries, and those who thought as he did. There were some peculiar circumstances connected with this occurrence which made me feel that I could not expect to have the control in the department which seemed to me essential to successful or honorable administration; and I could not help feeling that Mr. Lincoln would not take the course he did if he really desired me to remain at the head of the department.

......An interesting account of a lady dentist in Berlin appears in Women and Work, a journal edited by Miss Emily Faithful. The lady married a dentist, who settled in Berlin; but he died of intemperance, and left her without means of subsistence. She had often watched her husband at his work, and resolved to become a dentist herself. But the law forbade any one to practise dentistry without a certificate, which could be gained only by examination, and there was no examination for women. Being informed that an American certificate would be accepted at Berlin, she resolved to go to Philadelphia, where she had been informed she could study without difficulty. To her disappointment, however, she learned that no woman had ever before applied to the College of Dentistry in that city; but after much discussion the authorities allowed her to attend lectures and work in the laboratory, while private instruction was given to her. Finally, she passed a successful examination, and commenced to practise in Philadelphia with success. But she wanted to return to Berlin, and she finally did so, armed with her certificate. She began the practise of dentistry in that city, confining her practise to women and children. She met at first with much opposition from her fellow-practitioners, but that speedily diminished after she had been introduced to the crown princess, and had been appointed dentist to her royal highness's children. Engagements among the highest families in Berlin flocked in upon her, and at the present moment she stands in the first rank of her profession. She is said to have great strength in her little hand, a flow of health and spirits, and works without weariness ten hours a day. In the evening her salon is the resort of the most intelligent and fashionable society in Berlin.

An exchange tells us that a schoolboy's toothache generally commences at eight in the morning; reaches its highest altitude at a quarter to nine, when the pain is intense to an extraordinary degree; commences to subside at nine, after that disappears with a celerity that must be very comfortable to the sufferer. THE PRESS.

The caucus as a political system, has grown to be so disreputable, it has so usurped the authority not only of the people at large, but of the members of the party it assumes to represent, that even good measures originated by it, or stamped with its approval, would be regarded with suspicion.—[New York Evening Post.

The real newspaper is a photograph of men and morals. If the pictures which it presents to the public are horrible to a refined moral sense, it is the fault of human nature and not of the newspaper. Loathsome crimes are not suppressed by covering up or ignoring their existence; on the contrary they are protected and nourished by seclusion from the light of publicity. The fungus growths of immorality flourish and multiply in the dark.—[Boston Herald.

The press was never so powerful, because it was never so truly independent, and because the criticisms of important newspapers are believed to be more patriotic than partisan. Under a free popular government, every intelligent editor will naturally sympathize with the tendency and spirit of some one of the great parties. But this will not prevent his plain criticism, and he will prove his friendship quite as much by prompt censure upon proper occasions as by vehement applause of everything done in the name of the party.—[Harper's Weekly.

Whatever easy honors are to be won by that kind of controversy the Spy is welcome to have and enjoy. Nor will we deny that such honors become a journal which is Argus-eyed to discover any report of individual lawlessness against members of the party to which it belongs, but rather blind to outrages on the constitution and the laws by which the rights of states and their citizens of every party are made less secure.—[Boston Advertiser.

Here is an example of the kind of faith that would have saved Sodom. The Norwich (Ct.) Bulletin says: "It is well to remember that the President has never taken an important step, however inexplicable at the time, when subsequent events have not proved that he was far wiser than his generation; and it is certain that his message on the state of affairs in Arkansas has the best grounds to back it, although we may not wholly understand what they are!"

POLITICAL SENTIMENTS OF A SOLDIER.—The passage we printed yesterday from the speech of General Burnside, the Senator elect from Rhode Island, is admirable in temper and spirit, and indicates that the new Senator intends to act with the moderate Republicans, of whom Vice President Wilson and Speaker Blaine are the leading New England representatives. General Burnside thinks the Southern people, and especially that part of them who served in the Confederate army, should be treated with generous confidence. He stands on the same ground which our illustrious soldiers occupied at the close of the war, before some of them became warped by politics. General Grant's honorable opposition to measures for punishing Lee or any part of his army for treason after receiving their paroles, and General Sherman's attempt to end political hostility and persecution as soon as military operations had ceased, betokened a sentiment which was widely shared by our army. We rejoice that Senator Burnside's soldierly instincts have not been perverted by party politics, and that he will go into the Senate as a strong advocate of kindness and conciliation. He sees nothing alarming in the election of ex-Confederate officers to positions in the federal government, maintains that their loyalty can be safely trusted, and declares that "the people are anxiously impatient to see all the states of the Union under the supervision of their own properly constituted authorities." HISTORICAL.

GEN. SULLIVAN'S CAMPAIGN IN RHODE ISLAND.

THE SIEGE OF NEWPORT AND THE BATTLE OF BUTT'S HILL—HARMONY AMONG THE OFFICERS.—MOVEMENTS OF THE FRENCH FLEET.—GEN. SULLIVAN DEFENDED FROM A CHARGE OF CORRUPTION.

At the Redwood Library last evening Mr. Amory, of Boston, delivered a discourse on the siege of Newport in 1778, having with him the original correspondence that passed at the time between the leaders who directed its operations. This correspondence he is soon to present to the Historical Society of New Hampshire, but he first wished to submit it for inspection to our own. He described the localities, personages and prominent incidents of the expedition and proved that if the French fleet had returned as requested on the 20th of August, the place might have surrendered. In the short space of three weeks Sullivan with two brigades from the regular army had gathered a force of 9000 men. There were at least half that number on the fleet available for land operations; and the garrison, not more than seven thousand, was not in condition for prolonged resistance. Mr. Amory read some interesting passages from the general orders before crossing on to the island, the address to the army on marching toward the town, the encouragement during the storm of the 12th of August, as also that after the fleet had sailed for Boston on the 24th of August and that on the 26th denying any intention of wounding the sensitiveness of the French officers in that of two days before. A part of the correspondence of the American general officers on the 23d, giving their opinions as to what course to pursue, was also read. Their advice generally was to take speedy measures for withdrawal from the island as there was much reason to anticipate a re-enforcement to the garrison, but, before going, to endeavor to surprise the enemy by landing at night a party on the cliff to be supported by a force to cross the bathing beach, in case the surprise party should succeed in capturing by the bayonet the redoubt that guarded it. Some preparations were made to take advantage of any opening for this attack but the withdrawal of three thousand volunteers and militia whose term of service had expired, on the 28th, compelled all other ideas to be abandoned than that of effecting a safe retreat to Butts hill at the north end of the island. This was accomplished on the night of the 28th and the next day took place, what Lafayette pronounced the best fought battle of the war, between the two armies, equal in numbers, the Americans stationed on Batts hill and the British on Quaker's and Anthony's, the former repelling three attacks of the enemy and driving them back to their lines, taking one of their batteries. Sullivan wished to attack their position, which was very strongly fortified, but as only fifteen hundred of his men had ever been previously in action, and the army had been on the march or engaged in battle for thirty six hours, and the loss in case of disaster would have been out of proportion to the chance of any probable success, it was concluded to defer it, in the hope of aid from the French at Boston, D'Estaign having expressed his readiness to coöperate. On the morning of the 30th, intelligence from Washington that Clinton had sailed from New York with 5000 men reached Sullivan and that night his army left the island unmolested and without loss. Congress and the neighboring states passed votes of thanks to the general, officers and troops and though the enterprise had not resulted in driving the British from Newport it had inflicted heavy losses upon them in ships and men, and served to keep alive among our own people the spirit requisite for eventual success.

Reference was made to mistakes and sometimes misrepresentations of writers who describe events without knowledge of what actually occurred. It has been said that D'Estaign remained in the offing, or near Beaver Tail ten days, from a whim of Sullivan. The correspondence shows he kept that position till the eighth of August from his own choice and judgment; for four reasons, either of which was sufficient, —because the south wind prevailed in Summer and he would lose control of his fleet farther up the channel, his ships higher up would have been exposed to land batteries at a disadvantage and his object was also to prevent re-enforcements to the garrison, or its escape.

It has been further alleged by some writer not familiar with the evidence that Sullivan did not let the admiral know of his proposed crossing. The last letter from D'Estaign before the descent on the island on the seventh, informed Sullivan that he proposed to land his own troops when he found opportunity, and that written on the eighth asking for notice came when it was too late to send it, and also, Butts hill being evacuated, when it would have been of no use. Lafayette had joined D'Estaign on the morning of the ninth, after a part of the American army had crossed, but a portion, as previously arranged, intended to coöperate with the French, were left at Tiverton, awaiting further orders. It has also been said that Washington wrote the general to quit the island. He gave him from day to day information as to the preparations making in New York to re-enforce the garrison but left his movements to his own judgment, and not one hour's time was lost in effecting their safe retreat without confusion and without precipitation.

In reply to a passage in the recently published tenth volume of the History of the United States, "that New Hampshire abandoned the fisheries was owing to Sullivan, who was in the pay of Luzerne," the French minister at Philadelphia from 1778 to 1783, the reasons for his vote were quoted from Sullivan's memoirs, page 207, showing that the fisheries were never abandoned by that vote, or any other, that it was no object to France that they should be, that the motion by one of the members to couple the fisheries and independence as the two sole conditions of peace, was made when it could not have been anticipated, and when Luzerne could not have been present to express an opinion, that Sullivan argued and voted against it, as out of place and unnecessary as the fisheries and boundaries were already in the general instructions, and it was voted down. It was also shown that a loan of $300 to Sullivan in October 1780 when a member of Congress, left without money in Philadelphia, his own means exhausted and government owing him $1600 for his pay and allowances and $1500 for moneys actually advanced to the public which he had counted upon for his expenses, but no part of which was paid till a year later, when freely offered, and gratefully accepted, and no doubt repaid, did not justify the historian in saying Sullivan was in the pay of Luzerne. Both were men of honor, and enough is known, and beyond dispute, of their lives and characters to conclusively prove that charge. not only untrue but that it was impossible that Luzerne should have attempted to influence Sullivan, or that the latter could have been swerved by this act of ordinary kindness amongst friends to consider by his vote French interests rather than American. When the volume appeared the representatives of Gen. Sullivan wrote the historian demanding his authority for the statement and on a second application a copy of a letter from Luzerne to Vergennes, dated May 13, 1781 was procured which was read in translation to the society and which so far from substantiating the charge showed it could not be true.

The letter will soon be in print when the public can judge if it contains any evidence whatever of thought or act discreditable to either. On the contrary, it gives the fullest proof that Sullivan was inaccessible to corruption and loyal to his country and to every other obligation.

THE WINTER OF 1740.

A TERRIBLE WINTER THAT THE OLDEST INHABITANT CAN'T REMEMBER.—THE BAY FROZEN OVER TILL MARCH.—SNOW THREE FEET DEEP IN THE WOODS.—LOSS OF LIVE STOCK.—ICE SOUTH OF BLOCK ISLAND.

We are allowed to publish the following interesting sketch of one of the most severe Winters recorded in New England: It was written by William Greene of Warwick and was recently found among his papers by a descendant. Mr. Greene was probably a member of the General Assembly during this Winter of 1740. He was deputy governor in 1742 and governor at intervals, some thirteen years, in all, till his death in March 1758.

"This Winter by all accounts was the coldest known in New England since the memory of man. It began in the early part of November with extreme cold, and so continued with considerable snow until the first week in December. The weather was then fine and warm for three or four days. (The General Assembly was then sitting at Warwick.) Soon after this the weather was again so excessively cold that the bay was frozen over, and people passed and repassed from Providence to Newport over the ice, and from Newport to Bristol. Occasionally, however, the ferry boat passed from Powers to Fox Hill. The storms of snow fell one upon another till it was about knee deep, and it lay until the 11th or 12th of January when a sudden thaw laid the earth bare in spots for a few days. This was again succeeded by violent cold weather, and in a very few days by more storms, till the 28th, 29th and 30th of January, (the General Assembly then sitting at Warwick by adjournment,) when, for the greater part of the said three days, there was a great, driving snow storm which fell full three feet deep in addition to what lay on the ground before. The snow having drifted, the tops of the stone walls and other fences were covered, and so hard was the crust that in many places the cattle frequently passed over them. The prevailing winds during the principal storms of the Winter were from the north, northwest and west, but sometimes from the northeast. Some considerable snow fell with the wind at south, southwest and southeast.

"The ice broke up from Warwick Neck down the bay about the third or fourth of March, but continued fast up the river, so that the inhabitants still passed from Warwick to Bristol, as was creditably reported. The snow in the woods, where it had fallen level, was supposed to be three feet deep on the 10th of March. During the great snow storm, the last of January, there was a great loss both of cattle and sheep; some were smothered, and great numbers of sheep were driven into the sea by the wind.

"The weather continued extremely cold till the 23d of February, which was a fine, warm day, and thawed the snow to that degree that the ground was bare in spots for three or four days. Then came another snow storm with excessively cold weather, and so continued till the 10th of March, when it became somewhat milder, and the snow began to thaw moderately until the 11th of March, when the wind was southwest, and the weather foggy, and the snow thawed rapidly, and spots of ground were bare in the plain land, but the greater part of the snow still remained on the 15th. The weather was then moderate, and so continued till the 19th, when it again became cold with some rain. The 22nd was a fine warm day; on the 23rd and 24th considerable snow fell; on the 25th there was snow, and the weather was cold for the season. The snow gradually disappeared without any rain to make a sudden gushet. The last of the ice went out of Cowesett bay the 30th and the 31st of March, but some of the snow continued to lie in drifts by the fences till the fifteenth of April.

"The Spring came slowly on, and during the greater part of it the weather was cold, and there were severe gales of wind from the west and northwest. My hay was gone on the fifteenth of April, and out of 235 sheep I lost nearly one half.

"In the midst of the Winter it was frozen from the mainland to Block Island, and thence southward out to sea. It was reported by the inhabitants that they could see nothing but ice.

"There were more than thirty snow storms besides small falls not worth mentioning. The Spring was so backward that the first week in May the woods at a distance appeared to be dead. The first peach trees were in bloom on the 7th of May, apple trees on the 13th.

CARE OF COWS.—Cattle will have to depend upon dry food now, unless roots have been raised for Winter feeding. If the hay is all of the best quality, early cut and well cured, and the cows are not surfeited by overfeeding, they should maintain their health and yield good returns, even without many roots or much grain, but if one has considerable straw or poor hay which he thinks he must work up, he should by all means give roots or grain, or both, with the hay. It would often pay better to sell a part of the poor hay or straw for bedding, and buy meal or feed with the remainder, than to feed poor hay alone. Five dollars' worth of grain fed to a cow will always show itself in the pail, or in the flesh and general health and condition of the animal. If you have never practised it, suppose you make a trial of feeding but twice a day. It is a good time now the days are short, and by feeding only at morning and at night we have the middle of the day to work while the sun shines. We have never known a man to try feeding but twice a day, who went back again to the old practice. It is much better for the farmer, and we believe better for the cattle.—[N. E. Farmer.

There is no person living but what suffers more or less with Lung Disease, Coughs, Colds or Consumption, yet some would die rather than pay 75 cents for a bottle of medicine that would cure them. Dr. A. Boschee's German Syrup has lately been introduced in this country from Germany, and its wonderous cures astonishes every one that try it. If you doubt what we say in print, cut this out and take it to your Druggist, James H. Taylor, and get a sample bottle for ten cents and try it, or a regular size for 75 cents.

The Public Confidence Well Placed

Although the world has been seeking specifics for disease for many centuries, few indeed have been found. Prominent among those few is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which years ago received the endorsement of the medical profession, and was hailed by press and public as the great renovator and preventive of the age. [illegible] It gives strength, to the torpid [illegible] activity, to the disordered [illegible] regularity and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] There is no exaggeration in this statement. It is a true [illegible] that the system is subject to disease. Were proofs required to substantiate the reality of the comprehensive effects of the Bitters, there is probably not in existence a medicine in favor of which such a mass of concurrent testimony, from the most respectable sources, could be adduced. But the efficacy of the nation's alterative and invigorant has been matter of universal knowledge too long to need any such corroboration. The fact that it has its largest sales in those portions of the North and South American Continents, Mexico and the West Indies, in which atmospheric influences prejudicial to health exists, proves what confidence is felt in its remedial and protective virtues. In localities where fevers of an intermittent type prevail, especially, it has come to be regarded as an indispensable necessity.

To mothers—for infants and children, to prevent food turning sour on the stomach use Milk of Magnesia; it cures dysentery and diarrhœa, invigorates the stomach and bowels, and corrects acidity. Physicians recommend and prescribe it. Caswell, Hazard & Co., Agents. jan28-1m

To the Afflicted. No matter under what form of sickness you labor, there is one great truth you should keep in mind: All disease originates in an impure condition of the blood. Purify that, and the disease must depart; but you cannot purify the blood by the use of poisonous drugs, and exhaustive stimulants. The best Blood Purifier ever discovered is Dr. WALKER's famous VINEGAR BITTERS, compounded of simple herbs. feb3-1w

Milk of Magnesia is something entirely new. It is employed in all cases where Magnesia is beneficial, and being rendered free from the deleterious tendencies of calcined and other magnesias is far preferable, and is very valuable in infancy, as from its agreeable taste and milk-like smoothness, children will take it when they cannot be induced to take anything else. Caswell, Hazard & Co., Agents jan28-1m

Young men, if you have been eating or drinking to excess, do not use Seltzer Water, but take Milk of Magnesia, which is much more effective. Indigestion, sick head ache, and vomiting food, positively cured by Milk of Magnesia. Caswell, Hazard & Co., Agents. jan28-1m

GENERAL NEWS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Senate Consideration of the Pinchback Claim.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 18.

The bull dog tactics adopted by Senator Morton to force a vote on the Pinchback case were repudiated today by the moderate men on the Republican side, who, having given them an unwilling support during a continuous session of near twenty-eight hours, determined to sustain no longer a contest so unworthy of their position. The question of tabling the resolution was understood of course to be a test, and it may be regarded as settled that if the Kellogg government is to be recognized by Congress it will be directly, and not through the admission of Pinchback.

Mr. Anthony's Speech.

During the debate on Pinchback Mr. Anthony said inasmuch as he assented to the report of the committee two years, he deemed it proper to state why he recognized Kellogg as governor, and as a consequence Pinchback entitled to a seat on a prima facie case. He had no doubt the election in Louisiana in 1872 was attended by fraud on both sides, but it was clear to his mind McEnery was in the minority, and the attempt to seat him as governor was a gigantic fraud. Two years had passed since the report of the committee, and Kellogg still held the office of governor, the President of the United States continued to recognize him, the House of Representative recognized him, but he rested his opinion upon the decision of the highest legal tribunal of Louisiana. The supreme court of the state which had decided that Kellogg was governor and four of the judges of that court were natives of the state—not carpet-baggers as Henry Clay was in Kentucky, Andrew Jackson was in Tennessee, Thomas H. Benton in Missouri and Daniel Webster in Massachusetts. In conclusion, he argued that Pinchback was entitled to his seat on a prima facie case, subject to future investigation, and he should give his vote accordingly.

The House Struggle over the Tax Bill.

The opponents of the tax bill fought it at every line in the House today, but without result. Two amendments were adopted, one putting a tax on cigars, which will raise about four millions, and the other continuing the tax on matches. The last section of the bill, which repeals the ten per cent. reduction, was reached late in the session, and a lively debate sprang up, but it had not progressed far enough before adjournment to afford a fair basis of judging of the sentiment of the House on this point.

Extra Session Speculations.

The probability of an extra session of Congress is greatly lessened by the action of the Senate in refusing to sit it out on the Pinchback case, and if the House passes the tax bill there is not likely to be any urgent occasion for calling the new statesmen to early duty. It is consequently asserted, however, that the President has declared his intention to call a special session of the Senate.

The Pacific Mail Subsidy.

The power of Congress to repeal the Pacific Mail subsidy, which is in the form of a contract made for ten years at the rate of $500,000 per year, will be considered by the Senate judiciary committee at its next meeting. It is stated that a majority of the committee are of the opinion that Congress cannot abrogate the contract so long as the committee complies faithfully with the stipulation set forth in the agreement.

The Louisiana Committee's Report.

Mr. Hoar has written the report of the Louisiana committee, excepting a small part prepared by Mr. Frye, and will submit it to his associates at once. Some delay has been caused by the non-receipt of the transcript of the testimony respecting the Coushatta massacre, which is to come from a St. Louis reporter, who was temporarily employed during the illness of the committee's stenographer, and who took his notes to St. Louis. The report is also to be laid before the members of the committee who first visited New Orleans, and the present appearances are that it will hardly get into the House this week.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Fall River Strikers.—Shut out by their own Folly—A New Strike.

FALL RIVER, Feb. 18.

The operatives of the Stafford and Mechanics' mills yesterday took a course of action which they afterwards had cause to regret. It being pay-day, a contribution was undertaken among the laborers in aid of the strikers. Opposition having been made on the part of some of the operatives, a demand was made for their discharge, on pain of the withdrawal of all the operatives of the mill. The demand was peremptorily refused, and the operatives accordingly carried out their threat, but becoming sick of their course, most of them applied for admission this morning but were met with the declaration that none of them would ever be employed by the corporation again, and this afternoon the Stafford mill closed in consequence. There was some disturbance at the Mechanics' mill this evening, a great deal of hooting and yelling and a few stones thrown, but since then everything has been quiet.

Still another strike occurred this afternoon at the Metacomet mill. It is claimed by the operatives that the overseer who has been employed lately, and came from the Merchants' mill, is discharging weavers and hiring others from the latter mill in their stead. Consequently they assembled at the lower end of the weave room and decided to strike.

German Men-of-War Ready for Immediate Service.

LONDON, Feb. 18.

Five German men-of-war at Kiel have been ordered in readiness for immediate service. Their officers and crews are not allowed to go ashore. It is supposed they are to sail for Spanish waters, in case there is any further delay of satisfaction from Spain for the Gustav outrage. This movement will probably force Spain to resume active measures against the Carlists.

A FIRE SHIELD.—A fire shield has been invented by Captain Elijah Low, of Bangor, Me., intended to meet a want long felt by the firemen in preventing fire from leaping across a street or to adjoining buildings. "This shield," says a local journal "gives the firemen a great advantage, in that while they can approach at working distance the hottest fire, they can command the opposite side of the street, or any adjoining building which could not be approached in any other way. The device is light and portable—two men can easily handle it—about fifty four inches in width by six and one half feet in height, with a protecting curve at the top the whole being of galvanized iron. Near the centre, and on a level with the eye, is an orifice some eight inches in diameter, which can be wholly closed or opened sufficiently for the introduction of the nozzle of the hose when playing. The patent also includes the insertion of a small window of mica, through which the hosemen can watch the action of the flames while fighting the hottest fire in safety."

SEX IN EGGS.—A correspondent of the London Journal of Horticulture says in reference to this question, "Last Winter an old country poultry keeper told me he could distinguish the sex in eggs. I laughed at him, and was none the less sceptical when he told me the following secret; Eggs with the air bladder on the centre of the crown of the egg will produce cockerells; those with the bladder on one side will produce pullets. The old man was so certain of the truth of this dogma, and his poultry yard so for confirmed it, that I determined to make experiments upon it this year. I have done so, carefully registering the egg bladder vertically, or bladder on one side, rejecting every one in which it was not decidedly one or the other, as in some it is only very slightly out of the centre. The following is the result: 58 chickens were hatched, 3 are dead, 11 are yet too young to decide upon their sex; of the remaining 44, every one has turned out true to the old man's theory. This, of course, may be an accidental coincidence, but I shall certainly try the experiment again."

INDOOR CULTURE OF TOMATOES.—The London Gardener's Chronicle describes a method of raising tomatoes within doors which it says has been successful and is worthy of general adoption. The seed is sown about Christmas, and in the first week in March the plants are set out against the back walls of some of the lean-to vineries, in a good compost, with ample root room. Here they make a rapid and vigorous growth and in the course of the season attain to the height of from ten to twelve feet and produce successional crops of fruit with great profusion until after Christmas. In this manner early and late tomatoes are obtained from the same plants. As a matter of course the plants can hardly be kept too moist, and a good dressing of crushed bones is occasionally given. The border in which the tomatoes are planted is only about fifteen inches in width. The plants must be well fed, but the wonderful crops they bear is the best testimony to the advantage of a liberal treatment. The weight of fruit obtained from one plant in a season is something remarkable, and many of them attain a great size.

KEEPING CELERY.—A correspondent of the Germantown Telegraph says, "A friend of mine has kept his celery through the Winter now for several years, by standing it in spring water about an inch in depth; and kept thus it continues to grow and send up fresh branches, so that he has cut nicely blanched, tender tops two and three times in a Winter. My trouble with the trench system has been meadow mice, which appear to be as fond of the plant as I am, and make sad havoc with it. Otherwise, it was the best way to keep it, which I had an opportunity of trying."

Recently, a man appointed to the office of notary public in South Carolina, on the recommendation of the entire legislative delegation from the county in which he resided, sent to the governor his oath of office in order to obtain his commission. The document bore the appointee's mark instead of a signature, the man being unable to write even his own name. The appointment was at once revoked.

CHICKENS AT TEN CENTS A SHOT.

A week or so ago three Marquette sports went down to the Dutch settlement on a deer hunt, which was to last several days. They put up with "Louis," an agricultural resident of that locality who occasionally entertains the sportive Nimrod; and as the allotted time for the chase had drawn to a close without that degree of success they had hoped for, (they had not in three days' hard tramping seen a solitary deer,) they proposed to Louis as they sat by the fire in the evening, that in the morning, before they started for home, he should put up some of his chickens at a distance of thirty rods and allow them to shoot at them for a compensation, "Yah, dat ish all right," said Louis, "you gif me ten cents efery shoot, and ven you gill him he ish youra." This arrangement completed, the sports retired with anticipations of fun in the morning. So, after breakfast, they settled their bill, had their team brought up and hitched to the fence, and all arrangements made to start right off as soon as they had cleaned the Dutchman out of all his chickens at ten cents apiece. While the sports were fixing up a "rest" Louis took a fine rooster under his arm and started for a stump about thirty rods distant. After tying him securely he returned, and putting a board across the rain-barrel commenced to make change. Young Preston laid his improved Remington in the notch and blazed away, but the majestic chanticleer didn't even turn his head or wink his eyebrow. Evidently Preston had missed. A smile of pity for the inexperience of their comrade beamed on the faces of the other as Lettimer adjusted his piece and fired. "Beats all!" he remarked after a pause, as the rooster gave no sign of being hit. Satterlee, Jr., laughed long and loud, as he threw himself upon the plank and peered through the globes of his saucy Henry, "Watch 'im now,"—bang! They watched him, and evidently he was watching them, and wondering what in thunder they were trying to do. The next two rounds were fired without much comment by the sports, and his nibs never fluttered. Then they got some hot water and cleaned their guns and fired at a target. It was easy enough to hit the target, but when it came to that rooster "they wasn't there." Finally Lattimer hit upon a happy idea His gun was double-barreled—one rifled and the other for shot, and as he quietly slipped in sixteen buck-shot and leveled over the plank a smile of sardonic sweetness illuminated his features. The report was terrific, and the head of the rooster dropped down beside the stump, but he himself stood up there yet in all the pristine majesty of former days. It was a sight to see! Silently, and without a word, those three young men entered their cutter and drove away. Louis had killed the rooster the night before and froze him harder than the language those young men indulged in on their way back to Marquette.—[Marquette (Mich.) Journal.

V E G E T I N E

Strikes at the root of disease by purifying the blood, restoring the liver and kidneys to healthy action, invigorating the nervous system.

VEGETINE

Is not a vile, nauseous compound, which simply purges the bowels, but a safe, pleasant remedy which is sure to purify the blood and thereby restore the health.

VEGETINE

Is now prescribed in cases of Scrofula and other diseases of the blood, by many of the best physicians, owing to its great success in curing all diseases of this nature.

VEGETINE

Does not deceive invalids into false hopes by purging and creating a fictitious appetite, but assists nature in clearing and purifying the whole system, leading the patient gradually to perfect health.

VEGETINE

Was looked upon as an experiment for some time by some of our best physicians, but those most incredulous in regard to its merit are now its most ardent friends and supporters.

VEGETINE

Instead of being a puffed-up medicine has worked its way up to its present astonishing success by actual merit in curing all diseases of the blood, of whatever nature.

VEGETINE

Says a Boston physician, "has no equal as a blood purifier. Hearing of its many wonderful cures, after all other remedies had failed, I visited the laboratory and convinced myself of its genuine merit. It is prepared from barks, roots and herbs, each of which is highly effective, and they are compounded in such a manner as to produce astonishing results."

VEGETINE

Is acknowledged and recommended by physicians and apothecaries to be the best purifier and cleanser of the blood yet discovered, and thousands speak in its praise who have been restored to health.

WHAT IS NEEDED.

BOSTON, Feb. 13, 1871.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—About one year since I found myself in a feeble condition from general debility. VEGETINE was strongly recommended to me by a friend who had been much benefitted by its use. I procured the article and after using several bottles, was restored to health and discontinued its use. I feel quite confident that there is no medicine superior to it for those complaints for which it is especially prepared, and would cheerfully recommend it to those who feel that they need something to restore them to perfect health.

Respectfully yours,
U. L. PETTENGILL,
Firm of S. M. Pettingill & Co., 10 State St., Boston.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 26, 1872.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—The two bottles of VEGETINE furnished me by your agent, my wife has used with great benefit.

For a long time she has been troubled with dizziness and costiveness; these troubles are now entirely removed by the use of VEGETINE.

She was also troubled with Dyspepsia and General Debility; and has been greatly benefited.

THOS. GILMORE, 229½ Walnut Street.

FEEL MYSELF A NEW MAN

NATICK, Mass., June 1st, 1872.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—Through the advice and earnest persuasion of Rev. E. S. Best, of this place, I have been taking VEGETINE for Dyspepsia, of which I have suffered for years.

I have used only two bottles and already feel myself a new man.

Respectfully,
DR. J. W. CARTER.

Report from a Practical Chemist and Apothecary.

BOSTON, Jan. 1, 1874.

Dear Sir—This is to certify that I have sold at retail 154½ dozen (1852 bottles) of your VEGETINE since April 12, 1870, and can truly say that it has given the best satisfaction of any remedy for the complaints for which it is recommended, that I ever sold. Scarcely a day passes without some of my customers testifying to its merits on themselves or their friends. I am perfectly cognizant of several cases of Scrofulous Tumors being cured by VEGETINE alone in this vicinity.

Very respectfully yours,
AL GILMAN, 468 Broadway.

STATEMENT OF MR. RICHARD STAFFORD.

NEWPORT, Jan. 7, 1875.

W. H. CARPENTER, M. D.—Dear Sir:—Having received great benefit from your treatment of my case of deafness and discharges from my ears, I beg to offer you my sincere and heartfelt thanks, hoping at the same time this correspondence may be of use to you professionally. To the public I would say, (if you decide to put this in print,) that as the result of Scarlet Fever, I was troubled for the whole of twenty years with a filthy, disgusting discharge from both ears, which made me grow deafer and deafer, and caused a polypus to grow in one ear, and I received no relief until I applied to Dr. C., for a remedy. I at once placed myself under his care, and through his skillful treatment I have completely recovered from the unpleasant and deplorable condition I was in. My faith in Dr. C's skill is unbounded as I considered my case about incurable before applying to him.

RICHARD STAFFORD, No. 5 Cross street.

CERTIFICATE OF MR. JOHN CASWELL,

NEWPORT, R. I., Dec. 12, 1874.

TO THE EDITOR OF NEWS:—I wish to recommend Dr. Carpenter's treatment to such of the community as have Scrofula. I inherited it, and it has always run in my blood, and last Fall it became terrible, injuring my health, and attacking my head and face particularly and so disfigured me that a neighbor that met me did not know me until I spoke to him. I applied to Dr. Carpenter, at the Perry House, and his medicines have met with gratifying success. My health is now good, have very little trouble with the humor, face looks natural, and I hope with a little more treatment, to eradicate the poisonous humor from my system entirely. I reside in Middletown.

JOHN CASWELL.

Catarrh and Polypus.

Home Testimony.

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 6th, 1874.

This is to proclaim what Dr. Carpenter has done for me. I suffered from Catarrh 40 years, and the last 10 years my nasal passages were filled with Polypus. I employed physicians from time to time, and two years ago, went to Boston, and was doctored there three months, and left off worse than I began, and I was almost discouraged. But I felt that I must do something, for I was obliged to keep my mouth open and my health was becoming impaired. So I went to Fall River last Spring, and placed myself under the care of Dr. Carpenter. His treatment proved highly satisfactory. He removed and cured the Polypus, I can breathe naturally, the Catarrh troubles me very little and altogether I am comfortable and as well as a man 60 years of age, can expect to be, and I hope this testimony may be the means of securing relief to other sufferers. I reside in Middletown.

ASA PECKHAM.

Permanent Cures of Scrofulous Catarrh.

Testimony of a Citizen of Newport.

My son and daughter were sufferers from Scrofulous Catarrh from birth, and with discharges, swellings upon their necks; and an utter inability to breathe through the nose, they were uncomfortable enough, when we placed them under the care of Dr. Carpenter in 1865. His remedies cured them in a few months and they remain well to this day. I publish this with the hope it may be the means of securing relief to others.

A CARD FROM

Mr. John Beattie Jr.

(From Fall River News.)

FALL RIVER, Jan. 22, 1874.

W. H. CARPENTER, M. D.,—My Dear Sir:—Allow me thus publicly to express my gratitude for the great benefit conferred upon me by your treatment. I was afflicted for years with Catarrh which had become a constant torment to me, the irritation and inflammation having increased until ulceration was the consequence. Your treatment has been attended with the happiest results. I am now comfortable, my head feels well, and I believe myself cured of that terrible disease.

JOHN BEATTIE, JR.

Mr. Beattie is of the well-known Firm of Wm. & J. Beattie, Jr., Granite Dealers and Contractors, 2 Quarry street.

A CARD FROM WALTER SCOTT, Esq.,

EDITOR OF BORDER CITY HERALD, OF FALL RIVER.

I have known Dr. Carpenter since he commenced practice in this city, and I am satisfied that he is a skillful physician and has been successful in the treatment of a great majority of the cases in which he has been consulted. Of my own personal knowledge, I have reason to testify that quite a number of the individuals cured were nearly hopeless in their condition; some about blind, others deaf, and others laboring under Bronchial and Catarrhal affections, and I have seen the same persons restored under his treatment to their normal state of health. I therefore, knowing these things, without hesitation recommend him to persons suffering from the maladies he has made his special study for years.

WALTER SCOTT.

VOICE RESTORED.

TESTIMONY OF MISS GARDNER.

(From Fall River News.)

DR. CARPENTER:—Dear Sir,—My thanks and gratitude are yours. When we consulted you last April, I was miserable indeed; I had lost both my health and my voice, and for two and a half years I could only whisper faintly. I had been doctored so much that we had little faith in the ability of any physician to restore me, but your treatment has performed a cure. I can talk aloud, and my health is good, better than for years. You may publish this if you wish; and as I do not reside in Fall River, I will refer to Mr. Wm. H. Mason, No. 41 North Main street, and Mr. and Mrs. Mason Rounds, No. 64 Durfee street, with whom I resided during treatment. Respectfully yours,

MISS HATTIE GARDNER.

Scrofula and St. Vitus Dance Cured.

(From Fall River Herald.)

When we took our daughter Ellen to Dr. Carpenter last May, at the Mount Hope House, she was in a terrible condition from Scrofula and St. Vitus Dance, and was not willing to go among folks, for her limbs jerked and twitched so she had not much control over them, but through Dr. Carpenter's skill she has been restored and is now well. We want this cure known, for some of our acquaintances have taken their children to Europe for treatment, thinking they could not be cured in this country. This case is well known by our neighbors.

FALL RIVER, May 23, 1874.

To my Friends and the Public:

It affords me great satisfaction to be able to testify to the success of Dr. Carpenter in the treatment of my Ears, which were a source of trouble and annoyance to me more than twenty years. Dr. C.'s treatment restored them, and they have been well several months. I have great confidence in Dr. Carpenter's skill and success in practice, and do not hesitate to recommend him.

Catarrh and Blindness.

(From Fall River News.)

Testimony of Mrs. J. Clomb, of Fall River.

I was diseased with an aggravated form of Catarrh ten years, and in consequence my eyes became affected in December last, and grew worse until I could not go about without being led. Was under the care of several doctors and at the Boston Infirmary, but got no help until I consulted Dr. Carpenter at the Mount Hope House, April 23. Under his treatment I began to improve immediately, and now I consider myself cured. I think every one should know there is a physician in Fall River who can cure such diseases. As I am not very well known in this city, I am at liberty to refer to W. Reed, Esq., No. 1 Ferry street, who saw me when I was in a state of blindness and since I was cured.

Insures against all forms of bodily injury induced by accidental means; such as dislocations, fractures, broken bones, ruptured tendons, bruises, cuts, stabs, gunshot wounds, crushing or mangling, burns and scalds, bites of mad dogs or serpents, unprovoked assaults by robbers or murderers, stroke of lightning or drowning &c.

The records of the years are filled with such accidents, and no doubt will be, so long as human carelessness exists. We are beset with them, from the cradle to the grave, and there is scarcely an individual refer, within the sphere of his own family or acquaintance, to some accident in which the indemnity offered by this company would have been a blessing worth much more than its cost.

Policies issued for long or short terms providing for weekly payments, in case of disability, and for the payment of the whole sum, in case of death.

The only company in the country that devotes itself wholly to accident insurance. A yearly policy covers accidents while travelling, while about one's business, while in the street, at home or abroad. The premium on each $1,000 is so small that every man able to secure a policy without the slightest embarrassment. For full and complete particulars inquire of L. D. DAVIS, agent for Newport and vicinity.

Look at This.

The last ten years have been very disastrous to insurance companies in the United States. More than sixty have failed altogether, and many others have reduced their capital stock or otherwise become greatly weakened. But there are a few that by prudent management and wise liberality on the part of stock holders are much stronger now than ever. Consider the following figures taken from the reports of the Insurance commissioner of the state of New York for 1864 and 1874.

ÆTNA of Hartford, Assets in 1864.			$1,900,439. 93
" " "		1874.	5,845,802. 03
Increase of assets in ten years			3,945,362. 10
INSURANCE of North America, 1864,			$1,715,171. 78
" " "		1874.	3,263,000. 00
Increase of assets in ten years,			1,547,828. 22
ROYAL of Liverpool, (American Funds) Assets in 1864,			$1,827,984. 0
" "		in 1874.	3,073,483. 8
Increase in ten years,			1,245,499. 78
HARTFORD, of Hartford, Assets 1864,			$1,576,930. 48
" " "		1874.	2,475,631. 51
Increase in ten years,			898,701. 03

This wonderful growth during a term of unparalleled disaster is not the result of good fortune merely, for these companies have been the heaviest losers in Portland, Chicago Boston and other cities, and have paid out millions of dollars each year. The facts commend themselves to persons who want RELIABLE insurance in these days of trial. A policy in such companies is worth twice as much as one in any of the untried institutions that are springing up on every hand. The rate is the same.

Dwelling houses and their contents insured for five years at very low prices—lower in fact than is charged by many of the Mutuals where the insured is liable to heavy assessments in case of a large fire in any of our larger towns.

Policies written on all classes of property, and losses paid at this agency.
